A RESOURCE FOR SMALL BUSINESSES

Resilient Recovery loans are Thread Capital's new long-term loans designed to meet the extended challenges faced during a business's disaster recovery, including repairing physical damage and recouping from more significant economic losses. Resilient Recovery loans are designed to ensure the business is fully stabilized and is able to handle future economic shocks. Terms are up to $250,000 for up to ten years.

This is NOT a grant program. Resilient Recovery loans are designed to ensure the business is fully stabilized and is able to handle future economic shocks. As such, eligibility for funding is contingent on documentation of storm damage from a declared natural disaster. Apply for the Thread Capital Resilient Recovery Loan at threadcap.org/disaster-recovery.
